

Waking up in Love Together

- How community provides personal growth

Workshop with Kelly Bryson
Originator of Tribal Technologies & Trust Based Relationship

“It takes a village to raise a consciousness”

“Community is a state of consciousness”

says Sabine Lichtenfels. We will experience how to enter this state and learn principles and tools for deepening it.

Because “It takes a village to raise a consciousness, or a Relationship” we will dive deep into “What does it take to create a transparent, trusting, touching, tolerant tribe / community?”

You will learn:

- how to fully accept yourself
- how to release from thinking something is “wrong”
- how to unpack the gift in triggers or conflicts
- how to take the complete responsibility for your experience
- how to live heart-centred and use your heart-intelligence
- how to better your relationships
- how to create transparent, trusting, touching, tolerant tribes/communities

We will be responding to questions and issues emerging from our collective group field. We will also learn and practice compassionate transparency.

We will apply the Tribal Technologies in practical settings, with the possibility of harvesting own experiences.

Practical information

Time & Date: Thursday June 2nd, 9:30 am - Sunday June 5th, 4pm.

Venue: Rosenlund Kurser, Ralgyden 18, 5471 Skovsgårde, Denmark.

Tuition fee: 350€ - 600€.

Choose a price based on you financial capability. Contact us for more information.

Accommodation fee: 2-3 person room: 1.700 kr. Single room (limited): 2.300 kr.

Own tent: 1.325 kr.

It is possible to arrive the day before for an additional fee.

Contact: pia@livkom.dk

Kelly Bryson

Kelly Bryson is the author of the best selling book “Don’t Be Nice, Be Real”, licensed therapist in private practice and certified trainer for the Center for Nonviolent Communication for over 25 years.

He developed and uses “Tribal Technologies” so groups can create a field of “Weness” to experience a deep connection in family, work space or wherever people get together.

Kelly Bryson’s approach is based on a long deep foundation in NVC. He will be offering exercises and the learning of basic NVC, as well as tools, practices and principles for the support of the development of NVC community.

LIVKOM
Livsberigende kommunikation

